Light Sport Aircraft Tour To Visit Addison Airport Public invited to experience 14 sport aircraft on October 14

Addison is preparing to welcome the 2011 Sport Tour, a fleet of the most popular light sport aircraft touring the country. The tour will be hosted by US Sport Aircraft at 4700 Airport Parkway, on grounds of the Addison Airport from 2:00 pm until 7:30 pm on Friday, October 14th. Aircraft will be on display and demonstration flights will be available throughout the event.

"Sport pilots and Light Sport Aircraft are the new and exciting way to get involved in flying with less time and expense" according to Patrick Arnzen of US Sport Aircraft. "The LSA tour helps to introduce people to the Light Sport Aircraft revolution" he added. "Owning a Light Sport Aircraft is easy, affordable, safe and fun" said Scott Severen of US Aviation Group. "People who have dreamed of learning to fly, or have wanted to own an affordable & fuel efficient aircraft should come and visit the event and see the aircraft on display" he added. According to Remos's Sue Parker, "The LSA tour is an excellent way to see what's available, speak with flight instructors, maintenance personnel and manufacturers all at one easy location".

Texas is the third largest aviation state in the nation and the Dallas Fort Worth area has the highest concentration of aviators in Texas. There are more than 50 airports, airparks and private airfields within 30 miles of DFW.
